3. BEHAVIOUR

Membership cards must be carried at all times or the member is required to enter their name and other particulars in the Visitors book. Failure to do so may incur a suspension. Spot checks may be carried out at random.

Persons leaving the Club premises late in the evening or early morning will be expected to leave in a manner, which does not unduly disturb neighbouring residents.

Members will behave in a proper manner without causing any inconvenience to other members and their guests. The term "behaviour" is to include: dress, language, actions and any annoyance which, in the opinion of Management, is detrimental to other members and the reputation of the Club. Members are solely responsible for their guests' behaviour.

Failure to comply with the proper behaviour will result in the member being asked to immediately leave the premises and may be suspended until such time the Disciplinary Committee has reviewed all reports pertaining to the member's behaviour.

Should a member be involved in a major disturbance, or action that has endangered, upset or harmed, other members, guests or staff member, the member will be immediately suspended from the Club until a Disciplinary Committee hearing is conducted to determine the incident.

The Disciplinary Committee's determination may result in a fine, suspension or cancellation of membership.

Disciplinary Committee hearings will normally take place as soon as practicable and usually within ten (10) working days of an incident.
